

The part is placed as close as possible to J1